PROFESSIONAL

When not on the water, having spent an entire career in Law Enforcement, I have found that both worlds intertwine with the ability to think on my feet, make quality decisions while under intense stress and a devotion to doing what's right.

The charge of being in protection of lives and property come naturally as well as discretion and a serving demeanor.

My background has also proven valuable in the aspect of personal and asset security while functioning in both arenas of responsibility.

COMPANY INFORMATION

At Black Anchor Maritime LLC, we strive in providing dependable and reliable service while ensuring discretion and quality. There are many companies and captains in the maritime world but none with the commitment to excellence like ours.
